The number of insurance companies carrying on insurance business in the Province, as of December 31, 1988, was 340, comprised of seven provincially incorporated companies and 333 extraprovincial companies.

The number of societies and fraternal associations licensed in the Province to carry on the business of insurance, as of December 31, 1988, was 22, (three provincial societies and 19 extraprovincial societies and fraternal associations).

The Insurance Council continued to grow in its role as a self-regulatory organization. It has now been three and one-half years since the licensing of agents, salesmen and adjusters was delegated to the Council by the Superintendent of Insurance.

During the Council's fiscal year ending May 31, 1988, the Council issued 10,184 licences, made up of 5,328 life insurance licences, 4,465 other than life licences and 391 adjuster licences.

In 1988, the decision was taken to delegate the discipline of licensed agents, salesmen and adjusters to the Council. Many hearings have been delegated to the Council on a case by case basis.

Respectfully submitted,

G.R. Armstrong
Superintendent of Insurance
